A Talk On An Oily Subject

Some interesting, inside facts, not generally known.

"PURE" is usually supposed to denote the highest quality of OLIVE OIL, but such is by no means always true. Without exception the Olive Oil imported here is the second and more often the third pressing—which though pure, is very much inferior to the first expressed.

The best article obtainable in this market is the California product—THE SYLMAR BRAND. This oil is obtained entirely from the first pressing of the fruit, and is not only strictly pure, but of the very highest medicinal quality and also very palatable.

We supply this at the price usually charged for ordinary grades, and will be pleased to have it compared with any other product.

ISWOLSKY WINS SEVERAL POINTS

Convinces Secretary Grey That Conference is Necessary.

DETAILS NOT YET ARRANGED

Austria's Seizure of Two Provinces and Bulgaria's Declaration of Independence Not the Only Subjects to Be Threshed Out—England Will Insist on Consent of All Parties Before Treaty Is Changed—Czar of Bulgaria Welcomed at Capital.

London, Oct. 13.—The Russian minister of foreign affairs, M. Iswolsky, has convinced the British secretary of foreign affairs, Sir Edward Grey, that grave necessity exists for a conference of the powers, not only to settle the crisis in the near east, but also to take under advisement other questions besides those involved in the annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the declaration of Bulgarian independence.

This change of front on the part of Great Britain, which has caused great surprise, was announced by the foreign office at the conclusion of a long conference between Sir Edward Grey and M. Iswolsky, after a meeting of the cabinet in the morning, at which Sir Edward set forth the position he had taken and explained the views of the Russian foreign minister. Sir Edward's secretary in making the announcement said:

"It may be affirmed with certainty that both ministers concur in the necessity for a conference, and that the pourparlers at the foreign office, following as they do on the Franco-Russian negotiations on the same subject, have smoothed away some of the difficulties which were in the way. It is now regarded as probable that the latest events in the near east also necessitate the enlarging of the scope of the questions to be discussed at the conference."

Details Not Announced.

Further than this nothing could be ascertained officially as to the questions M. Iswolsky desires to include. In fact, it is doubtful if it has been decided what shall be taken up in addition to the two actions which brought about the crisis, for it was intimated that the pourparlers at the British foreign office have not yet been concluded, and may continue for several days. M. Iswolsky intended to leave for Paris on Wednesday, but he said that his departure would not be possible until Thursday, and that he might remain in London even longer than that.

It is doubted whether Russia is anxious to reopen the Dardanelles for the present, for if this is done it must be for all nations, and Russia is not likely to desire that while her fleet is so weak. Besides, other treaties in addition to the treaty of Berlin would be involved.

The only point in her previous stand Great Britain is continuing to insist upon apparently is that no modification of a treaty can be permitted without the consent of all parties to that treaty, and at her proposal the powers have instructed their ambassadors at Constantinople to reaffirm this principle. What end can be served by this is not stated by the foreign office, but it can hardly be expected that either Bulgaria or Austria-Hungary will consent to restore the legal status in Bulgaria and Bosnia and Herzegovina before the questions of independence and annexation are considered, as the powers have decided must be done with respect to the island of Crete.

Prince Enters Capital.
Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 13.—Prince Ferdinand entered the city as "Czar of the Bulgarians" and was given an enthusiastic reception by the whole population. His entry was originally planned for Sunday, but it was deferred for a day in the hope that some power would break the ice of international formality by some mark of recognition. Early in the day there was a rumor that the Austrian legation had raised the Austrian flag, which sent crowds flying thither, eager to expend their enthusiasm, and later the American legation was made the object of particular attention because of the hope that the United States might take the lead, not being a party to the Berlin treaty.

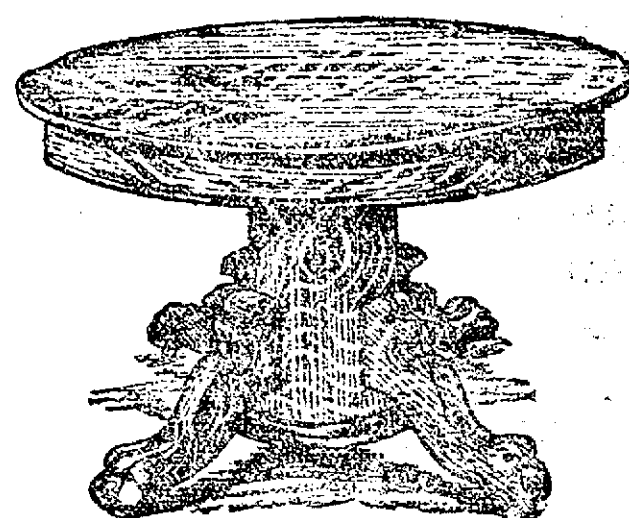

Negro Loaded With Diamonds.
St. Louis, Oct. 13.—George Foster, a negro, was arrested in this city on a charge of stealing diamonds and jewelry exceeding in value $25,000 from H. C. Powell, a wholesale jeweler of New York. When Foster was searched by the police $15,000 worth of unset diamonds were found on his person, as were also $1,000 worth of diamond jewelry and 500 worth of watches. The valuables were stolen, it is said, from Mr. Powell while he was on a train coming from Chicago to St. Louis on June 29. Foster has been a dining and sleeping car porter.

New York Registration Is Shy.
New York, Oct. 13.—In spite of the growth of the city, the total registration is between 6,000 and 7,000 below what it was at the last presidential election.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have. In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition. Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

Not George R. Kimball.

In the account of the alleged theft of a watch, published in Monday evening's edition of The Advocate, it was stated that the watch was the property of G. R. Kimball, a telegraph operator. Mr. G. R. Kimball is a local department official of the B. & O., and is not concerned in the affair. C. W. Kimball was the man whose watch was stolen.

Purchased New York Hotel.

It is reported that Captain F. G. Warden, owner of The Hotel Warden, in this city, and a member of the Metropole Hotel company of Chicago, controlling several of the large hotels, has closed a contract for the purchase of the elaborate Hotel Navarre, located at Seventh avenue and 38th street, New York. It is positively known that Captain Warden went from here to New York last week to negotiate for the purchase, and left for his other hotel at Aniston, Ala., Friday night.

Will Remove to Toledo.

Captain Albert Ball of Buena Vista street, has returned from Columbus, where he has been visiting his brother, Mr. Hal Ball, for a few days. Mr. Hal Ball left this city about 23 years ago, being engaged here with Ball & Ward in the capacity of expert decorator and was, when he left this city at the head of the painting department. Upon going to Columbus he took charge of the painting department of the C. & S. R. Railroad and since that road has become a Pennsylvania connection the painting department for cars is to be moved to Toledo, which necessitates Mr. Ball moving there with his family.

Crippled by Inflammatory Rheumatism

Mrs. John Irons, of No. 232 Columbus avenue, Washington, C. D., Ohio, says: "For nearly a year I was almost helpless from inflammatory rheumatism. I was confined to the bed part of the time and my condition was such that I was unable to turn over in bed and could not get up or down without assistance. The disease settled in my limbs, arms and shoulders and the pains, which were sharp and shooting, extended to my toes. I could not lift my arms, my flesh would swell and I was sore all over. My hands were so crippled that I could not use them for five months. It also affected the muscles of my jaws so that I could hardly open my mouth. In fact it crippled me so that I could not dress myself and was practically helpless."

"I doctored with my family physician, but only received temporary relief. I thought I would never get well again. I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills curing a case similar to mine, and I decided to try them. I was relieved after the first few boxes, and then I had hope. I took about twelve boxes altogether, was cured and have had no rheumatic pains since."

Adams, Bryan, President, and Harmon for Governor of Ohio, and the desire of all Democrats to put their shoulders to the wheel, this fall, the Democratic County Central committee has made arrangements to hold big Democratic rallies in every part of the county, at which Bryan clubs will be organized. HON. JAMES E. CAMPBELL FOR THE U. S. SENATE

(Mansfield Shield)

The republican party of Ohio has discarded and discredited the imperial Foraker. Spies and harpies either paid by William R. Hearst or holding position by the grace of His Majesty, the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, now have their quarry at bay and one of Ohio's noblest sons is taking the final count in a hopeless conflict.

It is not improbable however, that as the people of Ohio are made acquainted with the crowning infamy that, under the sanction of the Tafts, Roosevelt and the rest, has been accomplished in the disgrace of Senator Foraker, they will probably turn to that other knight of the political arena the Hon. James E. Campbell to maintain in the senate of the United States the loftiest and best traditions of this great commonwealth.

There is not today in the state of Ohio a man who is more completely in touch with the people of the state and their needs than is Hon. James E. Campbell. There are few others in Ohio who are so well equipped to cope with the forces of republicanism as a member of the senate minority as is Mr. Campbell.

Brilliant and accomplished he bears the scars of some of the fiercest political conflicts this state has ever witnessed. Once vanquishing for the governorship the man he is about to succeed in the senate, with matchless skill he met upon the rostrum the beloved McKinley, who was one of the most potent forensic debaters of his time. Defeated in the election of 1891 the good broadsword of Campbell and of McKinley were sheathed without malice and they were friends to the very end. There was no more sincere mourner at the bier of the martyred president than was James E. Campbell.

In 1895 in the city of Springfield, Gov. Campbell was drafted by his party to lead a "forlorn hope" campaign against the late Gov. Bushnell.

That campaign was one of exciting and dramatic interest. As a "whirlwind performance" it has never been exceeded in any state in the Union. Under the fierce searchlight of the opposition Campbell although defeated, still retained the respect of his political enemies and the love of his party he had volunteered to serve in that contest. In connection with the nomination of Gov. Campbell at Springfield in 1895 there is an incident worthy of remembrance. When making his brief acceptance speech of a nomination that was literally forced upon him he said: "A good soldier may sometimes fall but he never falters."

James E. Campbell has never quailed in the presence of any foe, whether in law, politics or on a battlefield—for he it remembered Mr. Campbell was one of Uncle Sam's gallant "Jackies" during the civil war.

Mr. Campbell comes of illustrious ancestry. He is a nephew of that once potent factor in Ohio politics, the Hon. Lewis D. Campbell. He comes from a section of the state consecrated and enriched by the memories and achievements of men men as Salmon P. Chase, W. H. Grosebeck, Tom Corwin, John A. McMahon, Gen. Robert E. Schenck, Clement L. Valladigham, George H. Pendleton and others equally noted.

The election to the U. S. Senate of James E. Campbell will recall and preserve the traditions of the Ewings, the Thurmans, the Pendletons, the Corwins, the Pughs, the Chases, the Stanburys, the Stantons, the Wades, the Shermans and, if you please the Forakers.

Let Ohio maintain her prestige in the senate of the United States. The great old commonwealth can do this by electing Campbell to the senate.

No true democrat can afford to vote for any other than the democratic legislative ticket.

Tells of Missionary Results.
New Orleans, Oct. 13.—Summing up the foreign missionary work of 100 years done by all churches of Christianity, Finis Ideman of Des Moines, speaking before the international missionary convention of the churches of Christ, said: "Faith in missionary activities no longer rests on authority, but also upon the assured results of a splendid century of commendable activity. We crown a hundred years with 1,250,000 of converts on heathen soil and with 5,000,000 adherents. There are 4,000 missionary stations, with 10,000 organized churches. There are 8,000 Bible schools and 1,500,000 pupils; 50,000 native ordained preachers tell their story in the language wherein they were born."

Three Trains in Collision.
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Three trains were wrecked in the New York Central yards near the Black Rock station. A yard engine with a string of cars attached, a freight train coming into the city and Michigan Central passenger train No. 3 were in the mixup, which resulted in the fatal injury of only one man. John W. Kinney, engineer of the switch engine, was caught between the tender and boiler and probably fatally injured. None of the passengers was hurt.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Newark readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy every produced such convincing proof of merit.

M. B. Melick, 61 W. Church St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I used them for kidney trouble and obtained great benefit. I had a constant dull aching across the small of my back which would change to sharp twinges whenever I stopped or overexerted myself in any way. I also had pains in my hips, sometimes so severe that I was forced to take to my bed. I tried liniments and used numerous remedies but obtained no relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I procured a box at Crayton's drug store. After a short use I found them to be just the remedy my system required as they banished my troubles and I have had no return of them since." (From statement given November 5, 1904.)

CONFIRMATION PROOF.
On Nov. 26, 1907, Mr. Melick said: "I gladly confirm everything I said in my former testimonial for Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have not suffered from backache or rheumatism since they cured me. I am convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills deserve all the praise given them."

Kohlstaet Interviews Laboring Men.
Washington, Oct. 13.—H. H. Kohlstaet of Chicago conferred with the president on political situation in the west, and told him some interesting stories of conversations he had heard among laboring men in Chicago, telling him how they felt toward the different presidential candidates. Mr. Kohlstaet said that he had talked with the editors of three of the leading newspapers of the country which are supporting the candidacy of W. J. Bryan. Two of the editors, he said, had told him they did not want to see Mr. Bryan elected and did not expect he would be. "And one of these men," continued Mr. Kohlstaet, "is a member of the Democratic national committee."

There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at F. D. Hall's drug store. 50c

"WE WANT YOU ON OUR BOOKS"

SUNRAY GAS HEATERS And Gas Ranges

THE SATISFACTION KIND. It needs but a little study of the sectional cut shown here to satisfy you that Sunray Heaters contain the three essential features necessary to make a perfect Gas Heater.

FIRST—Combustion. It has a system of goose-neck burners with adjustable air mixers that mix the air and gas properly, and then the combustion takes place in a basket of the finest porous clay fuel, which becomes intensely hot, and a current of fresh air is passed through the hot mass, and thus a large amount of oxygen of the air is consumed, producing a very hot fire, using the smallest possible per cent. of gas.

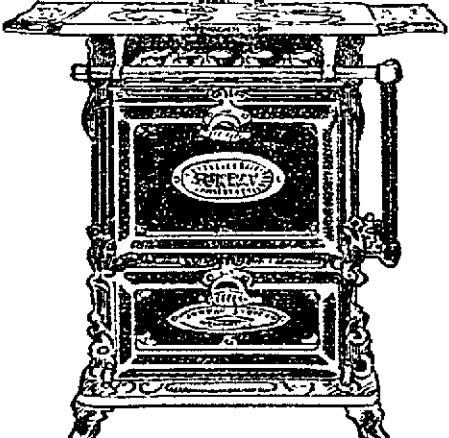

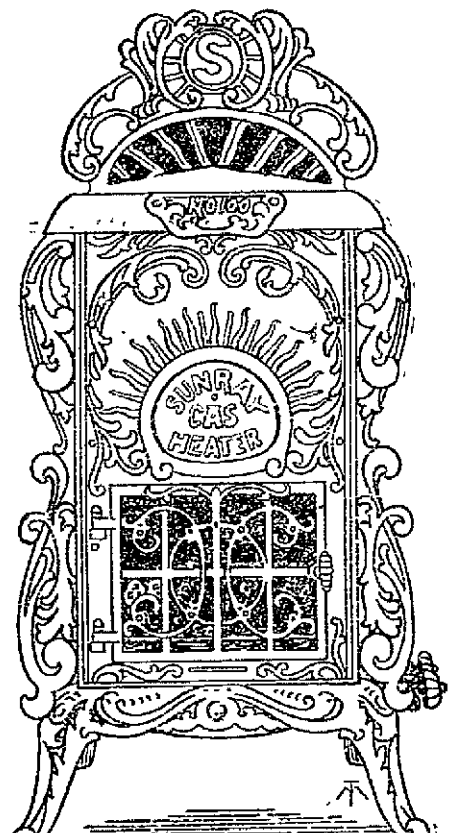

SECOND—Radiation. The entire outside body of the Sunray is active radiating surface, and as shown in cut, we add a number of circulating tubes directly over the fire in the hottest part of the stove, thus adding a large amount of radiating surface in close contact to the fire, the heat is then obliged to pass across and around the tubes five times before reaching the flue, thus it will be seen that the air in the circulating chambers, over and back of the fire chamber and in the tubes becomes very hot and then arises in a current of hot air in the room, at the same time drawing the cold air from the floor up under the stove into the heating chamber.

THIRD—Proper Vent. In order to dispose of the fumes and sweat that is in all natural gas, we pass the products of combustion across and around the tubes, thus retarding them until the heat is all absorbed, and they pass into the chimney just hot enough to prevent condensation in the pipes, and no fumes of sweat can get into the room, as the stoves are cemented in every joint, and the air is kept pure, sweet and dry, and we give a positive guarantee that they will not sweat.

Its capacity to circulate a large volume of hot air is what makes the Sunray Heater so effective.

Nothing Cheap About Sunray Gas Ranges Except Price

SUNRAY Gas Ranges are made to do first-class service, and give good value for the price paid for them. The market is flooded with a lot of cheap bargain counter, gingerbread ranges, made only to sell and put up to deceive the buyer long enough to get his money. In selling Sunray Gas Stoves we have not attempted to meet this class of competition, for we believe that the merchant who sells this class of stuff will soon see his trade slip away from him, for the people are learning that this bargain counter stuff is dear at any price.

OFFICIALS OF GRANVILLE

MAY YET GET AFTER CHEWERS AND PASS SPLITTING ORDINANCE.

Dr. E. W. Hunt Will Address Citizens Banquet at Mt. Vernon—Gist of News From the College City.

Granville, Oct. 13. — The pernicious habit of spitting promiscuously upon the pavements of the village causes no little amount of talk, especially by the business men, who have to sweep the sidewalks each morning. Complaints are being heard often on account of this thoughtlessness on the part of many tobacco users, and an ordinance should be passed prohibiting the practice. The unsanitary and filthy conditions of the sidewalks, caused by the spitting, is enough to call for attention by the marshal and constable.

For the purpose of bringing together for a rousing rally and general good time, all the men who are interested in the success of the Y. M. C. A. movement in Mt. Vernon, and those who should be interested, a citizens' banquet has been arranged to be held in that city this evening, at which Dr. E. W. Hunt, president of Denison University, will be one of the principal speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Saxton, who live several miles northwest of Granville, have the sympathy of their many friends here in the death of their little two weeks old son, which occurred on Saturday afternoon. The interment was made Sunday in the Liberty church cemetery.

The Board of Control of Denison University has decided to charge 35 cents each for the four football games, which are to be played on Beaver Field, this place, on four successive Saturdays, commencing Saturday, Oct. 17.

Dr. J. C. Baldwin, pastor of the Baptist church, led chapel Monday, in the absence of Dr. E. W. Hunt, president of Denison University, who is in Cincinnati at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall Meeker of Cleveland, who have been visiting here for the past week, left for Chillicothe on Tuesday morning, where they make a short visit before returning home.

C. Graham Becker, ex-'07, has been here for some days, visiting old friends. The fifth annual directory of the students and faculty of Denison University is now on the press and will be ready for distribution in a few days. It is published this year by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., and when completed will be one of the best and most reliable directories ever published.

Many Baptist people are making arrangements to attend the Ohio Baptist Anniversaries, to be held in Newark on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, at the Fifth Street Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Sing of Dayton, visited their daughter, Kathleen, of Stone Hill, over Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Crown, of Canton, O., has been enjoying a visit from her father.

Miss Ella Hughes of Cincinnati, after a short visit with friends in the village, has returned home.

Misses Sue Theobald and Mary Louise Chamberlin were in Columbus a day or two ago.

Mrs. J. M. Mayhew left on Tuesday morning for Tiffin, Ohio, to attend the state convention of the Women's Federated Clubs, as a delegate from the Travelers' Club of Granville. Mrs. Mayhew formerly resided in Seneca county.

Denison and Muskingum will clash on the gridiron on Beaver Field Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There has been considerable rivalry between these two colleges for years and a fierce battle is always looked for.

For Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts and all manner of abrasions," writes Mr. W. Stone of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing, too, for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at F. D. Hall's drug store. 25c.

The Newark commandery, combined with the Cincinnati, Coshocton and Steubenville, went in a special train, running as second No. 7 on the Panhandle. The headquarters for the Newark Commandery will be at the St. Nicholas hotel. The following Sir Knights and their ladies composed the Newark delegation:

FIND FINGER PRINTS

Police Say Razor's Overcoat Pocket Is Marked With Blood.

Wadsworth, O., Oct. 13. — An autopsy is being held in an attempt to establish a motive for the murder of Ora Lee, the factory girl who was murdered last week.

It is believed that the autopsy will confirm the stories told by friends of the dead girl as to her condition. They intimated that, in their belief, her lover, Guy Rasor, now in jail at Medina, was responsible for her condition.

A further examination of the overcoat taken by Marshal Bricker, and which the latter says is Rasor's, reveals prints of the hand of a man in blood in the white lining inside the right pocket, the two first fingers and thumb showing very plainly. The prints are in the inside of the pocket, on the right side, where a spot resembling blood was formerly found. The coat will be sent away to have the blood analyzed and Rasor's fingers will probably be compared with the mark. A bullet was taken from Ora Lee's head. It passed through from the right temple and was of 32-caliber.

Houseboat Is Raided.

East Liverpool, O., Oct. 13.—Four boats, containing 21 men and liquor of all qualities and quantities, the latter worth nearly $1,000, were captured along the Ohio river by the police. For four hours patrol wagons were kept going, hauling men and liquors to the city hall. All the men are charged with "keeping a place where intoxicating liquors are sold." The boats were anchored in the Ohio river close to the Ohio shore. When the plain-clothes men rowed up to the boats the bluecoats on shore also closed in, making the attack invincible. Frantic efforts to escape were made by the "visitors," but without avail. They fell out of houseboat windows into skiffs and in some instances into the river, but all were caught.

Joke Proves Serious.

Youngstown, O., Oct. 13.—John Reagan of East Youngstown was arrested for playing a joke on Annie Diocet. The woman came near being seriously injured as a result of the prank. She was hanging clothes in her yard when Reagan exploded a box of gunpowder behind her. He had invited a number of men to witness the joke. The woman's clothes caught fire and it was with hard work that the flames were put out. Reagan was arrested for assault and battery. He said he just wanted to see the woman jump.

Girl Killed on River.

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 13.—Ethel Miller, 9, was shot and killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun which had been laid in the bottom of a boat in which she was riding, at Sciotoville, with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuiz. The party had been gathering coal on a sandbar and the coal was thrown on the gun and is believed to have caused the discharge of the gun.

Bullet Lodges In Boy's Brain.

Dayton, O., Oct. 13. — Despite the fact that he has a bullet in his head, Eburn Hanson, 15, a high school boy, is progressing satisfactorily and will live. While peering from behind a tree in the woods near Central Theological seminary he was struck by a bullet from the gun of a boy who was "shooting for fun."

Hunter Accidentally Shot.

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 13. — Arthur Calhoun, a shoemaker of this city, was shot in the back and hip by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a companion, while hunting squirrels near Sciotoville. His injuries are dangerous.

COBB BATS OUT GREAT VICTORY

His Stick Work Wins For Detroit Over Chicago.

JENNINGS REARRANGES TEAM

Crowd at Third Game of World's Series Is Much Smaller Than at Two Preceding—Mullin Pitches Magnificent Ball, Never Faltering When Chicago Piled Up Three Runs in One Inning—Crowd Calls For Pfeister's Retirement.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—By defeating Chicago by the score of 8 to 3 Detroit became a real contender for the baseball championship of the world. Manager Jennings achieved this result with a change in his lineup. Downs was put on the bench and the efficient Schaefer, who is at home in almost any position, was shifted from third to second base, Coughlin occupying the third sack. This shakeup can not be said to have had any material effect in winning the game, for neither Schaefer nor Coughlin got a hit, while Coughlin bungled one of his two chances.

Counting the world's series of last year, this victory was the first Detroit has scored in eight contests for the highest prize in the baseball world. Mullin, elected by Manager Jennings to pitch for Detroit, was steady throughout the game, holding Chicago to seven scattered hits and passing only one man. Pfeister's left-handed shoots for the most part failed to puzzle the Michigan batsmen. Besides issuing three passes, he was hit safely 13 times, two of the cluster being doubles, and six of them occurring in one inning. It was this inning, the sixth, which gave the game to Detroit.

The gray-clad Tigers, two runs behind Chicago when the inning opened, came across the plate in a procession. The crowd, with the exception of a minority from Detroit, which enjoyed the proceedings hugely, pleaded with vociferous unanimity for the retirement of Pfeister. Manager Chance, who failed to show any traces of embarrassment or displeasure at the way in which Detroit came up from behind and went ahead, smiled cheerfully and ignored the request.

Cobb in Old-Time Form. Tyrus Cobb, idol of the Detroit enthusiasts, whose playing was a great disappointment a year ago, came into his own. He batted like the natural hitter he is and ran bases like a flash. His batting average for the day was .500. Out of five times up he hit safely four times. His stinging single to right in the first drove in O'Leary with the first run of the game. In the fourth he reached first on a fielder's chance, but in the sixth he beat out his slow grounder, scoring McIntyre. In the eighth his sprouting ability enabled him to make a double of a hit which, with a less speedy man, would have been good for only one base. In the next inning he singled, and he not only stole second but also pilfered third by a narrow margin. He had no opportunity in the field, to the great regret of his admirers in the stand. Others whose work contributed materially to the victory were O'Leary, Crawford and Rossman, each of whom made two hits, although Rossman and O'Leary were both charged with errors.

To Mullin, however, the greatest credit was awarded by the spectators. Even in the fourth inning, when all of Chicago's runs were scored, he never faltered. His nerve remained steady, his arm strong and his control excellent. The only base on balls which he allowed was turned into a run by Chicago.

The score: Chicago . . . 8 0 0 3 0 0 0 0—3 7 3
Detroit . . . 1 0 0 0 5 0 2 0—8 13 3
Batteries—Pfeister, Reulbach and Kling, Mullin and Thomas.
Despite the fact that the sun shone brightly and the temperature was higher than the day previous, only 14,543 paid admissions were registered at various turnstiles, netting total receipts of $22,767. Dawn did not find the usual line of eager would-be purchasers at the ticket windows. It was 8 o'clock before a single line formed, and when play began there were still vacant seats in the more distant bleachers. These seats, however, probably would have been filled had it not been that many of the spectators chose to occupy the temporary seats in the ground behind the barriers in right center and left field.

GOOD HOME REMEDY

Anyone Can Prepare This Mixture Which is Said to Readily Relieve Catarrh.

Here is a prescription which should be valued by all who are subject to rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers an incurable disease, there are few men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following simple home prescription, and if taken in time it should prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Anyone can mix the following: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Karsen one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime. Get these ingredients from any pharmacist whom you know handles only pure drugs.

This prescription acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys to make them filter and strain from the blood, the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief is often felt even after the first few doses, and it is seldom that the sufferer ever experiences a return attack within the year.

This prescription makes a splendid remedy for all forms of blood disorders and such symptoms as lame back, bladder weaknesses and rheumatism pains are entirely dispelled. As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every reader who suffers from catarrh.

MADE A BAD BLUFF.

Marion, O., Oct. 13.—R. E. Carter, star outfielder with the pennant winning Lancaster team in the Ohio State league, was ejected from the Hotel Majestic Monday because of threats to commit suicide. Carter said he was in love with a girl whom he discovered to be married. The clerk dashed a bottle from the ball player's lips.

KOEL STILL WORKING

Bucyrus, O., Oct. 13.—Tiffin defeated the locals by a score of 10 to 1 yesterday. Osborn and Blue of the Philadelphia team and Koehl of the Newark team played with Tiffin, the latter being on the slab. Koehl has a record of three shut out games this season and came near repeating the trick Monday when he let the Futures down with two hits, one of which was a scotch.

STENCILING A WALL.

How to Use the Stencil Brushes Successfully.

Very artistic effects can be secured by stenciling a wall. It makes a break in the plain surface, and very harmonious contrasts and dainty color schemes can be worked out by the use of stencils.

To use the stencil successfully start at one corner of the room, press the stencil firmly against the wall, have the material that you are going to stencil mixed up ready for use, dip the ends of your brush in this and simply rub it across the face of the stencil, being careful not to get too much stuff on the brush so that it will run in back of the stencil and blur or blot. Says Country Life in America. When you finish one section remove the stencil from the wall and carefully watch it for the next.

An ordinary round paint brush is as good a stencil brush as any. Tie the bristles about halfway down, so that they will not spread, and in using just dip the tips of the bristles into the tinting material.

How to Test Dress Goods.

Of the goods sold as "all wool" there is not one-tenth that is genuine. Generally the main component is cotton. The test for this is simple. All that is necessary is to pull out a few threads and apply a lighted match. Cotton will go off in a blaze; wool will shrivel up. To distinguish pure linen from counterfeit is even easier. The intended buyer need but wet her finger and apply it to the goods. If they are pure linen, the moisture will pass straight through. The spot touched will be soaked at once, and almost immediately one side will be as wet as the other. Frauds are more numerous in silk than in any other fabric, but here also the material of adulteration is cotton. Its presence can readily be discovered. Draw a few threads out. The pieces of cotton will snap off short when pulled, while the silk will stretch and permit a considerable pull before breaking.

He began to cough this winter just the same as before. We heard Father John's Medicine recommended highly, so decided to give it a trial and to my great delight I find it doing wonders of good. Since we gave the second bottle, he has not had any cough at all, and he runs outdoors all of the time now and is getting fat and rugged every day.

SYNOPSIS PRECEDING CHAPTERS

Chapter I—In the studio of Karl Mahler, a young painter, Olga Hoffmann, for six years the wife of Banker Herman Hoffmann, feels stirring again her girlish love for Karl. At her husband's request, Karl is to paint her portrait. Suddenly rising from an armchair, a mysterious, repellent, yet fascinating stranger appears before Olga. He seems to her the incarnation of evil, and she flees.

Chapter II—Karl seems to have outgrown his boyish passion for Olga. After the sitting for the portrait, on the same evening, Karl is to meet at Olga's reception a young girl, Elsa, whom Olga has in mind as a bride for the young painter.

Chapter III—Karl is oppressed by the feeling that an unseen presence occupies his armchair. His model, Mimi, to whom he has made love lightly and who loves him, reproaches him for neglecting her in view of his approaching engagement.

Chapter IV—Left on the studio with Karl for the sitting, Olga tells the artist that she has fought for six years against going there. She is overwhelmed with a sense of terror.

Chapter V—Despite the earnest efforts of Olga and Karl the past rises. As she takes off her waist in the dressing room preparatory to donning a shawl in which to sit, the mysterious stranger appears.

Chapter VI—The stranger calls himself Dr. Millar. He recalls to Karl a meeting at Monte Carlo, where his gold enabled the artist to win. He seems to bring to the surface of the young woman and the artist their unlawful passion. Olga, dismayed, rushes into the outer studio.

VII—Under the cynical observation of Millar the wife and the artist feel themselves compromised by their presence together in the studio, although they are innocent. Olga is fascinated by Millar and invites him despite her intuitive fear of him, to her reception. After warning Karl against marriage he joins Karl's hand and Olga's, declaring they would make a splendid couple.

VIII—Incited by the subtle urging of Millar, the devil incarnate, Olga and Karl, forgetful of her husband, cling to each other. As their lips meet there comes a ring at the doorbell. It is Herman, returning for his wife.

IX—The Devil inspires Herman with suspicion concerning the hour spent in the studio, during which no work was done on the portrait. Millar interests Herman by his knowledge of business affairs, and at Herman's behest Olga again invites the devil to her ball despite her own wishes. Olga and Herman leave the studio, Karl remaining with Mimi.

Olga becomes jealous of Mimi, and Millar promises to interrupt the model's court with Karl.

CHAPTER X.

KARL paid no attention to Mimi until she walked over to him and touched him on the shoulder. Then he sat up impatiently.

"Did I not promise to call at your house?" he asked angrily. "Why did you come here?"

"Are you ashamed because I came while all those people were here?" Mimi asked, hurt and drawing away from him.

"Oh, no; not at all. I promised to call, and I can't understand why you did not wait," Karl answered.

Mimi timidly leaned down and put her arms around his neck. Then she said pleadingly:

"Oh, Karl, dear, please don't get married."

"Don't? You'll spoil my collar," Karl exclaimed, trying to avoid her embrace. Mimi began to cry softly.

"Before I saw these people I hardly ever thought of your marriage," she said. "But now, Karl, dear, my heart aches. Please don't get married."

Karl was touched by her grief in spite of himself. He reached over and patted her cheek.

"There, don't cry, dearie; please don't cry," he said. "It makes you homely."

Mimi brightened instantly, and her tears vanished, leaving her face smiling.

"I am a silly little girl," she said.

other, and Millar looked at them, smiling.

"It's very singular," he said, "but each time I enter your studio I find a lady disrobing. You might think this was a ladies' tailoring establishment."

Mimi looked at Karl jealously as he glared at Millar. Then she burst into tears and ran out of the room. Karl watched her, and as she slammed the door he turned to Millar and quietly said:

"Thank you very much."

"Oh, don't mention it!"

"I will get your overcoat, and don't let me detain you," said Karl, with significant emphasis.

"I broke the hanger. Your man is mending it and will bring it here," Millar said coolly, ignoring the marked impoliteness.

Karl said nothing more, and after a few minutes of silence Millar resumed:

"I just saw something that touched me deeply—Mme. Hoffmann clinging to her husband's arm as if she were begging him to protect her."

"Protect her!" Karl exclaimed angrily. "You don't mean to protect her from me?"

"Look here, Karl, do you think you are wise to be a fool?"

"I prefer not to discuss this subject," Karl answered coldly. "You don't seem to understand my position. Why, it is absurd. I have seen this woman every day for years; met her and her husband. We have been good friends. That's all absolutely, and had I thought of anything else I should laugh at myself. In wealth, position, everything, she is above me."

"No woman is above her own heart," Millar replied cynically. "Look at her. She is yours if you want her. Just stretch out your hand, my boy, and you have your warmth, your happiness, your joy—unpeakable joy, the most supreme joy possible to a human being—and you are too lazy to reach out your hand. Why, another man would toil night and day, risk his life and limb, for such a woman, yet she drops into your arms unsought, a found treasure."

Karl laughed bitterly.

"A found treasure," he repeated. "Perhaps that is why I am indifferent."

Millar moved over to where the young artist was seated on the couch and sat beside him. He leaned toward Karl and spoke low and earnestly, keeping his big, black, glittering eyes fixed on him.

"Last fall, on the 6th of September—I shall never forget the date—I had a singular experience," he said. "I put on an old suit of clothes, one I had not worn for some time, and as I picked up the waistcoat a sovereign dropped out from one of the pockets. It had been there no one knew how long. I picked it up, saying to myself as I turned the gold piece over in my hand, 'I wonder when you got there.' It slipped through my fingers and rolled into some dark corner."

"I searched the room trying to find it, but my sovereign had gone. I became nervous. Again I searched, with no result. I became angry, took up the rug, moved the furniture about, and I called my man to help me. I grew feverish with the one thought that I must have that sovereign. Suddenly a suspicion seized me. I sprang to my feet and cried to my servant:

"You thief, you have found the sovereign and put it back in your pocket!" He answered disrespectfully. I rushed at him. I saw a knife blade glimmer in his pocket, and I drew a pistol from mine."

He drew a shining revolver from his hip pocket and laid it on the table at Karl's elbow.

"And with this pistol I nearly killed a man for a found sovereign which I did not need," he finished quietly.

Karl was profoundly stirred by the story, although he could hardly tell why.

"I give found money away," he said, laughing uncertainly and adding, "for luck."

"So do I," said Millar quickly, "but it slipped through my fingers, and what slips through our fingers is what we want. We seek it breathlessly. That is human nature. You, too, will seek your found treasure once it slips through your fingers. And then you will find that worthless thing worth everything. You can find it sweet, dear, precious."

Karl turned away from him, trying not to listen to him.

"Kill a man for a found sovereign," he repeated.

"That woman will become sweeter, dearer, more precious to you every day," the malignant one went on, his words searing Karl's soul. "You will realize that she could have given you wings; that she is the warmth, the color—her glowing passion the inspiration of your work. All this you will realize when she has slipped through your fingers. You might have become a master, a giant, not by loving your art, but by loving her. Oh, to be kissed by her, to look into her burning eyes and to kiss her warm, passionate mouth!"

Karl covered his face with his hands. Millar picked up the delicately scented shawl which had covered Olga's bare shoulders.

"This has touched her bosom," he cried, twining it around Karl's head and shoulders so that its fragrance reached his nostrils.

The boy lost control of himself and caught the drapery, pressing it to his lips.

"Both so beautiful," Millar persisted in his soft, even, melodious voice. "Oh, what you could be to each other! What divine pleasure you would find!"

Dropping the shawl, Karl started to his feet.

"Be quiet! You are trying to drive me mad!" he cried. "Do you want to ruin me? For God's sake, man, be still!"

"Afraid again, oh, Puritan!" Millar sneered. "Why, boy, life is only worth living when it is thrown away."

"Why do you tell me that?" Karl demanded. "Why do you hover over me? What do you want? Who sent you?"

"No one. I am here."

He again touched his forehead significantly, and Karl shuddered. "I won't do it! No, no, no! Do you hear? I won't!" the boy cried hysterically. "I have been her good friend for years. We have been good friends. We will remain good friends. I don't want the found sovereign."

"But if it slips through your fingers!" Millar cried. "Suppose another man runs away with her?"

"Who?" Karl demanded.

"Myself," Millar replied coolly. "You!"

"Tonight, this very night!" Millar cried, laughing satanically and triumphantly. "Tonight I shall play with her as I please. Oh, what joy! What exquisite joy!"

"What's that?" Karl cried, taking a step toward him.

"She will do whatever I wish—tonight, at her home. You will see, when the lights are bright, when the air is filled with perfume—before day dawns you will see."

"Stop! Stop!" Karl cried warningly. "Be there and you will run after your lost sovereign," Millar went on tauntingly. "Every minute you don't know where she is she is spending with me. A carriage passes you with drawn blinds, and your heart stands still. Who is in it? She and I. You see a couple turn the corner with arms lovingly interlocked. Who was that? She and I—always she and I. We sit in every carriage, we go around every corner, always she and I—always clinging to each other, always lovingly. The thought maddens you. You run through the streets. A light is extinguished in some room high up in a house. Who is there? She and I. We stand at the window arm in arm looking down into your maddened eyes, and we hold each other closer, and we laugh at you."

"Stop, damn you! Stop!" Karl cried, beside himself and trying to shut out the terrible monotony of Millar's voice.

"We laugh at you, you fool!" the fiend cried again hoarsely. "And her laughter grows warmer and warmer until she laughs as only a woman can laugh in the midst of delicious joy."

With a maddened scream of rage Karl reached the table with a bound and snatched up the revolver. But Millar, with a spring as lithe and agile as a cat, was there beside him, holding the arm with which he would have shot down the man who was pouring insidious poison into his ears—into his soul.

Millar smiled as he looked at the helpless boy before him. Karl released the revolver, and as he replaced it in his pocket Millar said, quietly:

"You see, Karl, a man may kill a man for a lost sovereign."

EIGHTY YEARS OLD

Joseph Bankson, a Prominent Insurance Man, and Much Esteemed Citizen of Bethany, Ill., Strongly Recommends

VINOL FOR OLD PEOPLE.

"I am past eighty years of age and for some time I had been losing strength and suffering from a chronic cold and lung trouble, until I was seriously ill and could not go out of doors. My son sent me some Vinol. I commenced to take it and it has simply worked wonders for me. I feel better and stronger than I have for years, and my cough is all gone. There is no other medicine equal to Vinol to build up health and strength for elderly people."—Joseph Bankson, Bethany, Ill.

This is because Vinol is the best cod liver and iron tonic in the world. It creates a hearty appetite, strengthens the digestive organs, makes rich red blood and replaces weakness with strength. The beneficial effect of Vinol in cases of feeble old people is simply remarkable.

We invite all old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, convalescents, or those suffering from chronic colds, coughs or bronchitis in this vicinity to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it does no good. We make this offer to show our faith in Vinol. Frank D. Hall, druggist, Newark.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE ORPHIUM.
Patrons of the Orphium are enjoying a good bill this week for the first half, with Billy Morse and the Two Sherwood Sisters and Mile. La Adella in a close race for first place in popular favor.

Something novel is to be witnessed in the toe dancing of Mile. La Adella, who has the charm of grace and femininity, combined with precision, making of her act a real treat. The little lady is an exceptionally pleasing performer.

Billy Morse has finally joined forces with a team of real singers and dancers, who make an act that goes a whole way farther than his monologue ever did, although that was always a hit. Old plantation songs and dances are given plenty of renditions in the act, which is of the popular kind, pleasing everybody.

Contortion is the one vaudeville feature which has always hung off by itself. The admirers of this particular kind of entertainment are so few that it seems almost a pity for a man to spend his life and time attempting to entertain with it, but Sidney Toledo has mastered the art, and while his tricks are not new, still he may rightly claim the distinction of being a real, boneless man.

Bryant & Seville put on a musical turn that adds an interesting feature to the week's offering.

Taken as a whole, the first half of this week is a wonderful improvement over the bill offered last week. The film for this half week shows some new and interesting views. B.B.H.

THE PRESS AGENT SAYS:

Zenda, the wonderful athlete, in his death defying act of allowing an automobile to run over his body, the same big act that he appeared in at Hammerstein's theater in New York, for eight weeks, will be in Newark at the Auditorium next Saturday for two performances with the Boston Ballet Co., as an extra attraction. Beecher Bros. have traveling Cadillac car, loaded with passengers and driven by one of the Beecher Bros., has been secured for this act.

Joseph Kilgour, who plays the title role in "The Devil," which Alfred, E. Arons presents by special arrangement with Henry W. Savage at the Auditorium on Monday evening next, is particularly adapted to this rather peculiar character, which though weird and almost supernatural, at the same time calls for considerable light comedy work. Mr. Kilgour established for himself an enviable reputation as Chamberlain in "The Movers," as the Secretary in "The Lion and the Mouse," company, and as Gen. Washington in "Captain Barrington." Mr. Kilgour has been a great favorite in London, where for many years he was cast for the villain parts at the Adelphi theater.

It is doubtful if any musical cartoon comedy of recent seasons contains as much genuine comedy as may be found in the latest offering, "Panhadde Pete," founded on George M'Gowan's New York World comedy-cartoon, which will be at the Auditorium theater Oct. 15, matinee and night. As a laugh provoker, this presentation is about as successful as any entertainment of its kind ever seen in this city, and it has the additional recommendation that some unusually artistic singing and dancing furnishes the dancing features of this, the latest and best of all newspaper cartoon comedies ever produced by Mr. James Gorman, who as a dancing master erases memories of all other dancing masters. On the whole, "Panhadde Pete" is worth an evening of anyone's time.

JUDGE PARKER SPEAKS

Gives Democratic Version of Harriman-Roosevelt Incident.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 12.—In a speech delivered here Judge Alton B. Parker discussed the Harriman incident in a humorous and sarcastic vein. After reading the letter which passed between President Roosevelt and Mr. Harriman in October, 1904, and telling of the actions which brought the Republican committee $260,000 from the hands of Mr. Harriman and Senator Depew a few days before the election of that year, Judge Parker declared that it was James Schoolcraft Sherman, Republican candidate for the vice presidency this year, who had caused the outbreak against Mr. Harriman at the hands of the president. He declared that "Mr. Sherman as the chairman of the Republican congressional committee in 1906 needed money and called for $1 contributions."

"President Roosevelt," said the speaker, "responded with a dollar, and Governor Hughes responded with a dollar, and then Mr. Sherman started down into Wall street to fill the hat. When he reached Mr. Harriman's office he met with a refusal, and thereupon President Roosevelt, who was very desirous of having a Republican congress, placed Mr. Harriman upon the list of undesirable citizens."

President Declines to Talk.

Washington, Oct. 13.—President Roosevelt told Congressman Barchfield of Pittsburgh that for him to go on the stump and make a speech in Pittsburgh, as Republicans there desire him to do, would be the same as carrying coals to New Castle. There was absolutely no necessity for him to speak in Pittsburgh, he said, because that district in his opinion was entirely safe for Mr. Taft.

LOCAL OPTION

There has been some rumor to the effect that the Licking County Local Option League had begun the circulation of petitions for a local option election in this county, to be presented to the proper authorities for approval, but at a meeting of the league's executive committee held recently it was decided to withhold active campaigning until after the general election.

PROF. NUSBAUM

FOR THREE YEARS TEACHER OF MUSIC IN THE NEWARK PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Will Leave About Nov. 1 to Enter Mercantile Pursuits in Peabody, Kas.—Board to Fill Vacancy.

In accordance with the statement of his resignation, which was presented for the action of the board of education at the last meeting, Prof. W. V. Nusbaum has now definitely decided that he and his family will leave Newark about Nov. 1 for Peabody, Kan., where he will go into partnership in the mercantile business with his brother, J. W. Nusbaum, at present the Republican candidate for treasurer of Marion county, Kansas.

Although Mr. Nusbaum's resignation, which is to be effective November 1st, has not been formally accepted, it is believed that it will be, and that a successor will be chosen as soon as possible. There are a large number of applications already in the hands of the board of education, and it is understood that a number of local people have applied, many lacking experience in public school work and others having too high an opinion of their ability, or else without any conception of the responsibilities of the position here. However, it is believed that the board will act wisely in the selection of a successor to Mr. Nusbaum.

There is no question in the minds of those familiar with local musical affairs, and especially school music circles, but that Mr. Nusbaum has done more for the advancement of good music taste in this city during the three years that he has been located here, than any other musician has done in that length of time, with the exception of the late Dr. Charles D. Reynolds.

The man who assumes the responsibility of cultivating the artistic mind of the child during its periods of natural development takes upon himself a task far greater than those who attempt to make a career out of it, and it has been in this field that Mr. Nusbaum has made a marked success here.

He came here in September, three years ago, from the schools of Greenville, O., as successor to Prof. N. E. Yeardley. He was located in Greenville for seven consecutive years, and only recently received a call to return to that place, but declined. During his identification with the Newark schools, he has been a prominent figure in the production of local recitals, oratorios and operas. He was the founder of the old Apollo Club, the High School Glee club, the Girls' chorus and the Male Chorus of Newark High.

In forsaking his musical work, Mr. Nusbaum feels that he is sacrificing much in a way, but does so willingly to locate in Kansas, where his mother, three brothers and a sister reside, as do also the relatives of Mrs. Nusbaum.

WORSE THAN LOCAL OPTION.

It can't be estimated all the damage that's been done, by this long-continued dry-spell, assisted by the sun; it's worse than local option—it never was so dry, and from this dusty earth we look in pleading to the sky. But if your house is painted with Aurora Paint you know, 'twill stand all kinds of weather—stand the sun and rain and snow. Aurora Paint is made to wear and will preserve the wood, and every house you paint with it you'll find is looking good. Aurora Mixed Paint is an honest lead and oil paint. Quail Game High.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 13.—Probably the largest fine ever assessed in a magistrate's court in this state was imposed on R. F. McMurty of Sumner county. McMurty was arrested by a deputy game warden while attempting to dispose of 30 quail before the opening of the season in Tennessee. He was fined $50 for each bird, making a total fine of $2,500.

Cleanliness in the Dairy.

To have healthful milk and butter, absolute cleanliness is necessary, as nothing will absorb impurities so quickly as milk. Milk buckets, strainers, etc., should first be rinsed with cold water to remove the new milk, which will curdle if brought in contact with hot water; then wash in warm water to which a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder has been added. Rinse and scald thoroughly with clear hot water and leave in the air and sun for at least twelve hours before they are used again. Have plenty of clean cloths and a soft brush especially for the dairy and wash and scald them in the same way as the utensils.
